Présentation

Objectifs

This course is designed to arm students with the necessary knowledge and skills to actively engage in the practical application of marketing strategies within the catering industry.

- Discover the global catering industry and identify current challenges and opportunities within the sector.
- Analyze and select a relevant project question focusing on a real catering business entity, considering factors such as COVID-19 impacts, evolving consumer behaviors, sustainability, and digital aspects.
- Research, analyze, and defend proposals and marketing perspectives based on the chosen question and project.
- Develop a comprehensive plan to gather information, select relevant bibliography, and craft actionable marketing solutions.
- Demonstrate analytical and strategic thinking in formulating and defending proposals, and design marketing-oriented perspectives, such as product development, digital strategies, and enhancing customer experiences.

Mission Deliverables: Your mission will culminate in two deliverables:

- Oral Presentation: Summarize your findings, proposed vision, and the 3-year deployment plan.
- Written Document: Provide a detailed, actionable document for your client.

We encourage you to approach this mission with enthusiasm and creativity. Feel free to reach out if you have any questions or require assistance along the way. Let's make this a valuable and rewarding experience together.
